Dear Jack:

On behalf of FBIS, I would like to extend to you our appreciation for the contribution you have made throughout these many years, as well as our best wishes, as you begin your retirement.

The multiple language skills and broad substantive knowledge that you have applied so effectively in your work have contributed importantly to the fulfillment of our mission. You have every reason to be proud of your accomplishments.

Your colleagues join me in wishing you success and satisfaction in whatever activity you may now undertake.

Sincerely,

R. W. Manners
Director
